Illinois State University
Intercollegiate Athletics
Sport Psychologist

Illinois State University invites applications for the position of Sport Psychologist. This position is funded by the Athletic Department and jointly reports to the Athletic Department and the Student Counseling Services Department. This position will deliver clinical and sport psychology services to student-athletes in an effort to enhance overall sports performance. This position will also oversee the delivery of clinical and sport psychology services provided to student-athletes in a collaborative effort to enhance personal, academic, and athletic success of all Illinois State University student-athletes. Provide counseling, consultation, and educational outreach services to student-athletes, coaches, and athletic department staff. Additionally, the position is responsible for the continued development and implementation of philosophies, policies, and procedures of psychological services for student-athletes.

Required Qualifications: Doctorate in counseling/clinical psychology from an accredited institution of higher learning; licensed psychologist (or license-eligible) in Illinois within one year of employment; previous professional work experience in the field of sport psychology; and familiarity with applicable NCAA rules

Please note: If this position is Security Sensitive or if you are subject to a criminal background investigation based on University policy, employment is contingent upon you passing a satisfactory criminal background investigation. You may not begin work until the criminal background investigation results have been received and cleared by Human Resources.

Desired Qualifications: experience working with high level athletes, preferably in the collegiate setting; expertise in psychological skills training; experience in working with an ethnically and culturally diverse client population; strong understanding of the Athletic Department culture; excellent interpersonal communication and computer skills; Certified Consultant from the Association for Applied Sport Psychology (AASP)

The position is a 12-month position. Salary is commensurate with qualifications.
