

COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY HEALTH SERVICES

Psychologist

Columbia Health is among the nation's largest and most comprehensive student health programs. Our Counseling and Psychological Services (CPS), staffed by 50 Psychologists, Psychiatrists, Social Workers, Postdoctoral Fellows, and Psychiatric Residents, is seeking a licensed psychologist to provide direct clinical services, including crisis intervention, diagnostic assessment, group therapy, psychoeducational programs, and brief psychotherapy to a highly diverse student population in the stimulating and dynamic academic environment of a leading research university located in the heart of New York City. Positions offer significant professional development opportunities, including in-service programs, support for conference attendance, and the opportunity to work with senior staff skilled in psychodynamic psychotherapy, CBT, ACT, trauma-informed interventions, and a broad range of other treatment modalities.

Qualifications: Ph.D. or Psy.D. in clinical psychology or Ph.D. in counseling psychology. Requires New York State license or eligibility. Minimum 5 years related experience with a least 3 years acceptable clinical experience or completion of a fellowship in college mental health. Strong clinical, diagnostic, interpersonal, and collaborative skills. Multicultural competence. Demonstrated experience in the assessment and management of suicidality and crisis intervention. Some evening and limited on-call hours required.

Preferred Experience:

- Demonstrated expertise and experience in the following areas:
 - Trauma-informed therapy especially with survivors of sexual abuse
 - Experience with international students, multicultural counseling
 - LGBTQ issues
- College counseling background or related background in treating late adolescents and young adults
- Experience in the design and implementation of outreach and psychoeducational programs

Qualified applicants should apply online on line at:

<http://jobs.columbia.edu/applicants/Central?quickFind=174287>

Columbia University is an Equal Opportunity and Affirmative Action employer -- Race/Gender/Disability/Veterans. It is committed to a workforce of faculty and staff that reflects the diversity and talent of New York City, the larger metropolitan area, and the nation.

For more information about Counseling and Psychological Services, visit us at <http://health.columbia.edu/services/cps>