Staff Psychologist (Stevens Institute of Technology)

Counseling and Psychological Services of Stevens Institute of Technology is seeking candidates for a newly funded Staff Psychologist position. This is a full-time, 12-month position. Salary range is competitive and commensurate with experience. The Staff Psychologist will operate as a generalist who provides a full range of clinical services including individual and group therapy, crisis intervention, outreach, consultation, supervision, and training.

Additionally, CAPS adheres to a short-term treatment model and we are seeking a clinician who can provide effective time limited psychotherapy. Stevens is also a University with a large international graduate student population, and preference will be given to job candidates fluent in Mandarin. The Staff Psychologist will have primary responsibility for providing prevention and outreach services to international graduate students attending the University and candidates should have demonstrated experience in this area.

Essential Job Functions:
- Provides initial clinical assessment, counseling and psychotherapy, group counseling, daytime on-call coverage, crisis intervention, clinical supervision, outreach, and consultation services to the university community.
- Maintains up-to-date case files as dictated by current professional standards.
- Adheres to ethical principles of the profession as articulated by the American Psychological Association.
- Facilitates psychiatric hospitalization for students as required
- May be asked to provide training and supervision to post-doctoral fellow, doctoral interns, or psychology externs.
- May be asked to work some evenings and weekends

Minimum Qualifications:
- Ph.D. or Psy.D. in Clinical or Counseling Psychology from an APA-accredited program
- Successful completion of an APA-Accredited Internship
- Licensed as a psychologist in NJ or expected to attain NJ license within 6 months of hire
- Multicultural competence and skill in working with students from a diversity of backgrounds
- Excellent oral and written communication skills.

Desired Qualifications:
- A minimum of five years of post-licensure experience
- Prior experience providing psychological care in a University Counseling setting
- Demonstrated competence in outreach and prevention program planning and implementation
- Fluency in Mandarin, and proficiency in providing psychological treatment in Mandarin.
- Demonstrated understanding of the challenges and stressors facing graduate and international students.
- Experience in providing clinical services to students pursuing studies in STEM.

Application Materials
- Apply online at: https://stevens.wd5.myworkdayjobs.com/External/job/Hoboken-NJ---Main-Campus/Staff-Psychologist_RQ21749
- In your application, please include CV and Cover Letter as well as contacts for three professional references
- To learn more about CAPS, candidates are invited to visit our home page: (https://www.stevens.edu/directory/counseling-and-psychological-services) prior to submitting their application materials.